Project Statement:

My project is a single page site created with React and styled with Bootstrap. The website allows users to receive randomized advice and quotes, similar to a magic 8 ball but with more detail. The user can refresh the screen to reload the Advice Slip API. To reload the Random Quote API, users can press the functional button. I created a logo for my website using Figma. For the style of my design, I stayed consistent with a blue and white color scheme.
